We build each workshop with complete customization for the client. This is why you will not see a list of workshops on our website. We conduct in depth interviews to ascertain exactly what the overall desired results are. Then we back down from there and create the needed topics and then the specific workshops. By doing this, we maintain complete focus on the client objectives and ensure the desired strategic results are met. We work with each client step by step. The objective is not to provide a great day of training, the objective is to provide great training throughout the entire course of the project. The result at the end, of the project, is that we have fully developed managers/leaders/supervisors who exceed our clients expectations.

We design and build custom workshops for managers, leaders and supervisors. They are designed specifically for the heart and soul of any organization, the middle managers. That being said we have routinely received superior feedback from both senior echelon personnel and entry level supervisors that the training was effective and applicable.

The specific areas of our training programs are;

- Communications
- Focus and alignment
- Creating individual and team ownership
- Personnel development

Some unique features of our training, our approach and our company;

-We are a small, highly specialized, company that limits itself to coaching, consulting, and training in our hyper niche. We are not all things to all people, we are experts in our niche and therefore provide a training experience unique to Genesis Consulting Group LLC.

-We utilize 3 hour sessions giving great flexibility to our clients. Dispensing with "fluff" by ensuring an exact focus on desired results for each program, we spend all our time covering only desired content.

-We offer "same day replay" at no additional charge. In other words, if the client desires to have a morning and afternoon session or even an afternoon and evening session we will do so at no additional charge, other than for a nominal charge for additional workbooks.

-We limit our number of active clients to ensure every client gets undivided attention to their needs. We know of no other way to ensure exceptional quality, responsiveness and consistency. At the present time, we have 2 slots available for continuing training clients (one or more workshops per month) and 4 slots for quarterly training clients in 2010.

-Our workbooks are not "off the shelf", they are literally built page by page for each client; again to ensure a truly customized and highly effective training experience. Another significant benefit to the client, is that your training is UP TO DATE, often containing information from last month, not last decade. They are also not leather bound or full of wonderful full color "empowering images". All that does is add pass along cost to our clients without any enhancement to the training. Our workbooks are professional, but basic and designed to be USED!!!!

-Continuous training contracts (at least 10 workshops in the same calendar year) have monthly phone conference consulting built in. In other words we reserve a 60 minute block of time in the early evening one weekday during the month. We are available in a conference call format to coach, answer questions or assist on ANY workshop already conducted. This feature ensures the opportunity for the attendees to do what ALL effective training must do, BE APPLIED.

-Every workshop includes a summary of the previous program, again to ensure that consistent and constant focus in the clients desires strategic results.

-We offer a very simple double guarantee both for the workshops AND the results they will produce, if the recommendations are applied. We are not aware of any other consulting/training company that offers this.

-Last and perhaps most importantly we bring a love and a passion to our work with each client based on the most fundamental of all of our beliefs. The greatest gift is the gift of knowledge that helps people live an enriched, satisfying life. We look forward to working with you and your entire organization to build an entertaining and educational training program that will exceed all desired results.

Respectfully,
